

Agronom LTD offers for the autumn campaign qualitative wheat grains

The wheat varieties of Agronom Company combine optimally much of the basic special features and advantages of the cultivation

12 June 2014 Read: 493 times

On June 11th, in the town of Shumen, the Agronom Company which is a proud owner of 22 registered wheat varieties, together with "MEGATRON" in its capacity of official distributor of "John Deere" for Republic of Bulgaria, organized a technical meeting for the growers from the agricultural sector. The meeting was attended by clients – agricultural growers and representatives of companies from this sector.

Prof. Dr. sc Nikolay Tsenov who is a part of the Agronom's team since this year, presented basic aspects regarding the selection of wheat varieties, world tendencies in the production so as the importance of the climate especially the global warming, for the quality of the wheat.

Basic accent was set over the selection of wheat grains in Bulgaria and the Professor introduce the guests to the native wheat ecotype, the traditions in the practice so as the future perspectives for Agronom Company in this direction. As a Company with strong traditions in the production and in the wheat grains selection, one of the basic purposes is increasing the quality of the native wheat varieties.

Mr. Todor Gubarov introduced in detail the attendants to the wheat varieties with AGRONOM Trade mark. The guests had the opportunity to receive useful practical advices about the cultivation of this grain-wheat culture – from the moment of certification, over the harvest to the seedtime.

The organizers appealed the growers to observe strictly the technological requirements during the wheat cultivation and wished them a successful year.